Christine Rosholt – Jazz Singer:

Writing/Essay/Journal

Jazz Singer Christine Rosholt's song "Just Say You Will" is about having a broken heart. Have you ever had your heart broken by anyone? What happened? What did it feel like? Did you get over it in time? Would you be comfortable sharing your story in front of a group of people or do you prefer to keep it a secret? How does Rosholt add something unique to her music? What emotions can be most easily expressed through song?

Activity

Write a poem or song about your experience of having a broken heart. Try to express the emotions of being in love and the aftermath of the broken heart.
