

Let's Go to the Library! : Supporting Resources

Description

Story time at your local library is a great way to introduce early literacy skills.

Book Suggestions

Little Owl Lost by Chris Haughton

The Day the Crayons Quit by Drew Daywalt

Lola at the Library by Anna McQuinn

Going to a Library by Rebecca Rissman

Curious George Visits the Library by Margret and H.A. Rey

More Ideas to Try (articles and resources)

How to Find a Public Library Close to You <http://www.publiclibraries.com/>

Reading Activities in the Neighborhood <http://www.pbs.org/parents/education/reading-language/reading-activities/reading-activities-in-the-neighborhood/>

Tips for Growing Bookworms: #5 Visit Libraries and Bookstores

<http://www.pbs.org/parents/booklights/archives/2009/12/tips-for-growing-bookworms-5-visit-libraries-and-bookstores.html>

Having Fun Together <http://www.pbs.org/parents/familiesstandtogether/action-fun.html>

Discussion Questions

The children in the video are enjoying a story time session that is provided for free at their local library. What do you think they are enjoying about their experience?

Do you know where to find a public library in your community?

What other information and resources can you find at your local library besides books?

What are you teaching your children about positive behavior in public spaces? What other places do you visit in your community where they can practice these skills?

Visit tpt.org/learn for more tips and resources.